

7 February, 2013

Dear Jeannie,

Having been self employed for over 20 years, I know the value and importance of a good account. The working relationship required is of utmost importance to me and also to have the knowledge that I can call and email with a question and not be charged every time.

I am so happy with my decision to change my business to your firm. Your services, not only through your conduct but also that of your staff, have been beyond reproach.

Your advice has been delivered in such a professional manner, but also in plain english language that I can understand and comprehend.

Thank you for services and look forward to your continued knowledge in bettering my business (and profit margins)

Sonya Lee

